In Mr. CARPERIL's own county, of Butler, an irregularity has been discovered, not indeed of sufficient gravity to invalidate his election, but to be of sufficient importance to the law-loving Radicals of Congress. It is given out that the law of Ohlo require that the three trustees of each township shall be the inspectors of election; but stipulate that when they, or either of them, shall not be present, when the hour for opening the polls arrives, the electors present may, by acclamation, choose from themselves such inspectors. Now it turns out that the majority for CARPERIL in Butler county was shout two hundred, and that in one township the majority reached more than that achieved for him in the District. In this township, all the trustees not being present, it is claimed that the election of substitutes was not conducted according to the ent, it is claimed that the election of sub-situtes was not conducted according to the paw. On this ground will turn the occu-pancy of the seat by SCHENCK OF CAMP-MELL; and not doubting the energy and patriotism of Mr. CAMPBELL and the friends of justice to vindicate the perfect accordance of the proceedings in that

A few days after the Ohio election, in stating that Mr. CAMPRELL's majority ever General SCHERCK was in the neighborhood of one hundred, a fear was expressed that the majority was teo small to stand against the unscrupulous power of a Radical Congress.
